Gala Show

Mind Games

His knack for analytic thinking and science drove him to explore the unfathomable. Chemistry was his passion, but his laboratory job did not fulfill him. He began exploring the "chemistry of people" – and learned how to amaze them.

After receiving his doctorate in organic chemistry, Dr. Florian Ilgen dedicated himself to his new passion: Understanding the way we think and influencing it. He felt that he was meant to be on stage. His extraordinary, interactive show, his wit and charm captivated people. Soon, large companies like SAP, Daimler, Vodafone, Audi, BMW, Microsoft and many more noticed the likeable entertainer's skillful mix of entertainment and facts.

This doctor of chemistry presents an exceptional stage show, where he explains the rules and mechanisms behind our choices and uses this knowledge to predict and influence them. The staunchest skeptics abandon their theories and readily submit to the experience, when the men in the audience start telepathically guessing the women's desires, when Florian Ilgen foresees zodiac signs, reveals swindlers and reads mental images.

Florian Ilgen touches your thoughts by putting a spell on you. He turns every place into his stage, makes everyone a star, the center of attention and their own spectator at once. His amusing explanation of our thought patterns, the power of our minds and our subconscious is packed into a grandiose, polished and clever stage performance.
